Commission kicks off Hungarian relief drive

A two-day drive for funds for Hungarian victims of the recent revolution started yesterday at MSTC.

Under the auspices of the American Red Cross, the drive is sponsored on campus by the Student Commission.

After the Junior Red Cross at the campus school collected $22.28 for a similar relief fund, the Hungarian aid drive was extended to students and faculty members.

The money will be spent to provide medicinal supplies and polio serum for Hungarians. Because of the Communist bloc opposition to Red Cross activities, only money can be sent to Red Cross headquarters in that country.

Members of sororities on campus conducted the drive on Thursday, and fraternity men take charge today. The booth in the post office area will be open until this afternoon for donations.

Seniors sponsor Christmas formal

A Christmas formal dance will be held in the gymnasium tomorrow night. This will be in place of the annual Twelfth Night Dance.

The dance is sponsored by the Student Commission, with the senior class in charge of arrangements. The committees chairmen are: decorations, Joan Hallett; publicity, Connie Battreall; ticket, Gary Schmiedtke; punch and cookies, Lynne Murphy, Kathryn Fankhanel; faculty invitations, Connie Battreall, JoAnn Sater; clean up, Jim Grant, and social commissioner Joan Fowler. General chairman is senior class president Ralph Burke.

The dance, a date affair, is formal. Music will be provided by Ed Brekke and his orchestra. Dancing will be from 9 to 12.

Admission is $1 or presentation of MSTC activity ticket at the door.

Begin construction on Weld addition

The new one-storey addition to Weld Hall may be finished and ready for use by next September if the construction proceeds as planned, the administration announced this week. The contractors should be working this week or as soon as all the necessary materials are available.

The addition will be on the east side of Weld next to the Campus School, and it will include Campus School physical education facilities, band practice rooms, and a large lecture room. The side of the structure facing the circle will be one storey high and the side facing 6th avenue, housing the gymnasium, will be between one and one-half and two storeys high.

The addition will be designed to correspond as nearly as possible to the architecture of Weld Hall and the Campus School buildings.

Low bidders on the general contract for the addition are J. E. Krieg and Sons of Fargo. Other successful contractors who will be working on the building are Dakota Electric, Mel Foss Inc., and Robert Gibb and Sons.

AS WE SEE IT

Better Schools make Better Citizens make Better Communities! This is the slogan of the National Citizens Council for Better Schools. It can be seen in many places throughout our own community — in the Fargo-Moorhead city buses, on billboards, in newspapers and magazines.

As future teachers, a problem faces every one of us. We will be out in those schools; inadequate conditions will affect us. We should all be alert to the situation and do whatever we can to alleviate the shortage of facilities for the education of the youth of America.

With more and more children reaching school age every year, the problem does not promise to alleviate itself. It will require the whole-hearted cooperation of everyone in the community.

As teachers and future teachers, and even more as parents and future parents, it is our duty to alert the people of America to the need for more and better facilities. It is not out of line to expect us to be able to prescribe at least in part for the improvement of our educational system.

Now is the time when we must be learning what is wrong and what is right in our schools, understanding what is necessary and what is outmoded, and developing an honest interest in providing the best education possible. For no man or woman, however well educated he may be, can be an effective teacher without equipment and buildings.

Yesterday a college drive for money to send to the Hungarian Red Cross for the provision of medicinal supplies for victims of the recent revolution against the Russians in that country began on campus. The drive will continue through today.

The Student Commission, which is sponsoring the drive, asks the cooperation of every student and faculty member in MSTC. Any contribution, however small, will be appreciated.

We feel that this is indeed a worthy project and one that all of us can be proud to support. If our contributions can prove to the people behind the Iron Curtain that the Americans have their interests in mind, we have done a little to help the cause of democracy and the United States.

"My Gun Is the Jury"--- tale by a modern Mickey Spillane

(ACP) — Just about everybody has tried his hand at doing a parody of Mickey Spillane and sometimes the results are pretty tiring. However, we found this one, from the Ivory Tower edition of the University of Minnesota Daily, amusing, particularly since it has the advantage of an O. Henry-type ending. It's called "Quench Me, Deadly" and begins:

It was a warm, stagnant night... no breeze, no moon. And very late. Silently he moved along the sidewalk past blackened dormitories. The others were all asleep; but he was restless, an annoying pang in the pit of his stomach.

After a quick glance behind, he approached the half-open doorway of a darkened building. He paused, fumbling in his pocket. Then, making no sound, he entered the gloomy interior and was enveloped in shadows. A solitary click... then silence.

Suddenly there were shouts from inside: "Thief! Robber!" A fist slammed out in the darkness, connecting solidly, noisily with its target. A grunt muffled groans. The pounding blows intensified. Between thuds violent curses split the air. A foot stomped hard, driven by powerful leg muscles; and there was a short, pleading cry. Then it was over.

For a moment he lingered in the doorway, leaning on the frame for support. Then he shuffled unsteadily out into the street, his raw, skinned knuckles visible in the yellow illumination given off by the street light. Head hung low, shoulders slouched, he walked dejectedly down the street and into the night, seeming not to know where to go, what to do.

Later in the week, maintenance men arrived to adjust the faulty mechanism of the large red machine so that it would operate properly, dispensing a bottle of Coca-Cola whenever a dime was inserted in the coin slot.

Faculty to discuss student selection

The Faculty Luncheon Club will meet Monday for a discussion of student selection and recruitment for certain curricula. This discussion will be correlated with the report given at the last meeting by Dr. J. P. Smith on the status of the freshman class.

The club is an informal luncheon group organized by the faculty to discuss college issues.

Commission Minutes

The Student Commission meeting of Monday, December 10, was called to order by President Frank Leidenfrost at 6:35 p.m. Absent were Joan Fowler, Phil Kieselbach, and Mrs. Grantham.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The minutes of the Inter-Religious Council meeting of December 4 were read.

Connie Battreall proposed setting up a fund-raising drive for the World University Service. Delsie moved that the Commission sponsor such a drive. It was seconded and passed. Ron Miller, education commissioner, was appointed chairman.

Connie read the minutes of the last two meetings of the Publications Board.

John reported that $850 was received from the sale of the old band uniforms.

DeLayne Reidberger was appointed as student representative to the Board of Student Appeals.

Delsie reported on a recent joint meeting with Concordia and NDSC representatives of the student governments. Inter-college relations were discussed.

Jim Ageson will attend the December 11 meeting of the Bookstore Board to find out if they will sponsor a contest for a school song.

Jo Sater moved that the college sponsor a Red Cross Drive for Hungarian Relief. It was seconded and passed. Frank Leidenfrost was voted chairman. Sororities will be in charge of collections on Thursday and fraternities on Friday.

The chairman of the Convocation committee requested that $40 be allocated for the purpose of serving lunch to a visiting high school musical group. This amount was cut from the budget this fall. A decision will be made at the next commission meeting on December 17.

A report on the questionnaire about the girls' class ring was made. Since, so few were returned, it was decided there was no basis upon which to propose a change at this time.

The meeting was adjourned.
Respectfully submitted,
June Johnson, secretary.

New library books feature settings in the Northwest

The Great Northwest is the main topic in three of the library's new books for the month of December.

Indians of the Northwest Coast, by Philip Drucker, a leading anthropologist, deals with the rich and lively aboriginal culture of the northwest coast Indians. Each tribe developed a distinct culture, but all shared enough similarities to be considered as a group. Dr. Drucker describes the land, people, and prehistory of the area and later takes up the physical anthropology and early European contacts of the various tribes.

Artists and Illustrations of the Old West: 1850-1900 by Robert Taft contains 72 pages of illustrations, sketches, water-colors, engravings, lithographs, and oil paintings which have historical significance. Dr. Taft brings the common life of the Old West very close to us as well as providing a highly entertaining and instructive record of the artists themselves and their personalities.

Narratives of Exploration and Adventure, is edited by Allan Nevine of Columbia University. This book is the exciting account of John Fremont's years as an explorer. It covers his three great expeditions into the northwest under the auspices of the government up until 1846 when the Mexican war put an end to his work.

Great Britain has had universal free education only since 1944.

Industrial Arts Dept. offers varied instruction, experience

by Garnet Badtke

In the basement of Weld Hall are situated the three industrial arts departments of MSTC. To the left of the north-south hall is the graphic arts department supervised by Dr. Marlowe Wegner.

Unusual feature of this department is the printshop where the Mistic is printed and graphic arts taught.

MSTC is the only Minnesota college printing its own newspaper.

Use of the linotype, letter press printing, and off-set printing is taught. Students may also learn silk screening, book binding, gold stamping, and rubber stamp making. Rubber stamp making and book binding were the arts of interest for the industrial arts workshop held at MS November 10. Students acted as teachers in these two fields.

Besides the three newly-painted presses there is a folding machine which enables MSTC to fold its own paper and to do other folding jobs such as program folding.

At the end of the hall in room seven is the woodworking shop. It is here that Dr. Otto Ursin sees that wood is cut right, worked correctly, and finished well.

Through the wood finishing projects, the student develops new finishes and new colors for many of the woods as well as sample pieces of the traditional finishes. From this the student gets a background of finishing techniques and knowledge of modern finishes.

The sample woods displayed along several of the walls of the room add much color. Wood is no longer just "blonde," "mahogany," or the usual "brown," but ranges in color from "china black" to "cactus green" and "colonial cherry."

Some pieces can also be done with the wood grain in vivid greens, purples, oranges, and blues.

A few of the types of wood used are oak, black walnut, fir, cherry, and African and Philippine mahoganies.

The centerpiece being made by Jerome Maley is a Red River Valley ox cart. The cart is tied with raw hide; contains no nails, only pegs; and is finished with linseed oil to make it resemble an old ox cart as much as possible.

The black walnut wood is also worked to make it look as though it had been hewn from timber wood.

Utility is the objective of the metal shop. Located on the right side of the hall, it is under the direction of Mr. Lawrence Marinaccio.

There are three aspects of metal work. First is sheet metal, in which is learned the three "developments" in working sheet metal into whatever form is desired. With these three developments, parallel, radial, and triangular, anything may be made from a simple pipe to the complex parts of a guided missile.

The aim of this particular course is to produce the technique needed to work with any type of sheet metal in modern industry.

The second division is art metal. It is here that the students design their own projects, which may be any sort of jewelry, jewelry boxes, wall plaques, or copper and aluminum foil art work. In addition to the utility and strength required in sheet metal, beauty is also an aim of this course.

The third division includes work with larger machines that make other machines such as the lathe. A milling machine, which makes grooves or other irregular shapes, is also included here, although the lathe is the basic machine-making machine.

A sub-division developed by the armed forces is welding. Welding has become very important, particularly in combat where it would be too expensive to rebuild large pieces of machinery, and to the farmer for repairing farm machinery.

Unlike soldering, welding will not break because the two pieces of metal have been fused together with no intervening third part. Both arc and acetylene welding are used in the MSTC shop.

Marinaccio also teaches and supervises student teachers at the campus high school.

The entire department is safety-conscious and brightly colored posters with various safety slogans are posted around the departments. Ursin stated that this is something every industrial art person should be aware of.

A final project which includes all the departments is a vivid yellow book rack in the wood shop. In it are different booklets which are given free by various companies and industries. Among the free literature are booklets on do-it-yourself aluminum, micrometer reading, and a comic which tells the story of measurement.

Erickson receives promotion to position of head janitor

Two recent changes in the MSTC staff are the promotion of Alfred Erickson to the position of head custodian and the addition of Miss June Olson, who is in charge of the student exchange.

Erickson, who has long been a resident of Moorhead, has worked at MSTC since April, 1955. As head janitor he is replacing Chris Hanson, who retired this month. A new janitor will be hired in the near future to complete the staff.

Miss Olson has taken over the switch board and post office duties from Pat Kertscher who left at the end of the fall quarter. Mrs. Kertscher is now in Gonvick, Minnesota, where her husband, Les, an MSTC graduate, is teaching.

June Olson is a 1956 graduate of Barnesville High School, and she is now living in Fargo.

Marketing class arranges 2nd tour

Herman Rawie, manager of Nash-Finch Company, will speak to the students of Marketing on discount policies and the marketing of raw materials during the regular class meeting on December 18.

The talk is designed to brief the students on the policies of Nash-Finch, in preparation for a plant visit by the class on December 19. The entire program is devoted to a case study of the firm's program in this area of marketing.

Dragons set new record

DRAGON FORWARD LOWELL BOLGER rescues a ball from the sidelines in a narrow flirtation with the out-of-bounds marker. A Michigan Tech player was registered as a casualty in the play. Later in the game, Bolger suffered a sprained ankle, and was forced to watch from the bench as his teammates went on to the staggering 118-68 victory. Photo by Hub Zervas.

Fans clamor for new record: On the floor, MS cagers comply

"118-68," the scoreboard read after the last Dragon basket swished through the net. Breaking all-time scoring records, MSTC handed Michigan Tech the worst defeat dealt to any opponent thus far in the season.

The top two photos show action from Friday's night's game. They cannot, however, register the tremendous reaction of MSTC fans as they saw the Dragons roll to an unprecedented score.

Students began yelling when the score reached 90, with six minutes left in the last quarter. The cry was "We want a hundred." Bloodthirsty, they refused to settle for 100 points; and, when the magic number was reached, they began to urge the Dragons on over the record set last year against Winona. In that game, the Dragons scored 109 times to defeat Winona 109 to 86.

In the second tier of pictures, on the left, B squad cager Jim Rice "congratulates" his home town buddy, Dick Shearer, now of Concordia, after the Dragon B squad had defeated Concordia. Both Rice and Shearer are from Wadena, Minnesota.

In the right hand photograph, big Phil Keiselbach, MSTC center, leaps high to make a rebound shot in the Mayville game. The Dragons went on to win it, 89 to 68.

Providing the spirit behind the crowd at Dragon games are the able cheerleader squad and the MSTC pep band. Under the direction of band leader Arthur Nix, two pep bands take turns playing school songs and the national anthem at home basketball contests.

Shown at the right is one of these groups. It is rumored that a Concordia student can be seen among the musicians in the brass section, but there has been no authentication of this report.

SPORTS NOTES

Dragons break 4 scoring records

Last Friday the Dragons broke four records and probably more than that as they scored a 118 to 68 victory over Michigan Tech. That is the most points ever scored by an MSTC team. The previous high total was 109 scored against Winona last year, when MSTC won by a score of 109-86.

The Dragons scored 68 points in the second half for another record and 49 field goals was the highest in that department. MSTC also won by its biggest margin, outscoring Michigan Tech by 50 points.

Burns suffers eye injury

Forward Pat Burns had more than just a little rough luck last Friday night. Pat was to dress for the varsity game against Michigan Tech last Friday after playing in the frosh game against Concordia. Pat suffered a ruptured blood vessel in the eye during the frosh game and will have to take it easy for a while.

Freshman coach Phil Buhn has gotten off to a good start with his freshman squad. The freshmen own victories over Mayville, Wahpeton, Wadena AFB and a victory over the Concordia frosh. The best game of the four was against Wadena AFB when the frosh roared from an 11-point deficit at half time to a victory.

Betas take first in girls' volleyball

The final games of the girl's intramural volleyball were played off Monday night.

The Pi Mu Phi sorority defeated the Gams 21-9 and 21-11 to take over the undisputed second place.

Beta Chi sorority finished on top of the league with 5 wins and no losses. In third place was the Gamma Nu sorority.

IM Basketball to Begin

Teams for men's intramural basketball must be turned in by Wednesday, December 19, to Bill Beck, John Chalfont, or Roy Domek. Games will be played on Thursday nights starting at 7:00.

Anyone not on a team wishing to play, can sign his name on the bulletin board, and teams will be formed from that list.

Mankato wins wrestling meet

Mankato TC won its fifth consecutive Carleton Invitational Meet at Northfield last Saturday. Outstanding wrestler in the tournament was Minter from Mankato who wrestled in the 177-pound class. Minter finished second in the NCAA finals last year.

MS wrestlers enter Carleton invitational

MSTC matmen met with disappointment on December 8, losing all of their matches at the Carleton Invitational, although most of the losses were decisions. Henry Hettwer and Don Tirk were pinned.

In the coming Winona match on December 15, Jerry Keogh and Henderson will not wrestle because of injuries. They will be replaced by Dick ElRite in the 177 pound class and

Roll Over Mich. Tech By Score of 118-68

Last Friday the Dragons opened up with the greatest scoring barrage in MSTC basketball history in a college game against Michigan Tech. By pouring in 49 field goals and 20 free throws the Dragons scored a record 68 points in the second half and a total of 118, as they subdued the Huskies 118 to 68.

The 118 points broke last year's all-time scoring record of 109 in the Winona TC game.

One disheartening factor was that Lowell Bolger sprained his ankle after two minutes of play in the first half.

Sherm Moe with 23 points led the Dragons while five others hit in the double figure mark. Guard Ken Reitan and Bolger's replacement, Alden Holte, each hit 19. Dale Serum was not far behind with 17 while Boots Kieselbach hit 14. Harvey Christensen, who was picked off Phil Buhn's frosh team for the game, came through with 11 points.

Take Fifth of Six From Wesleyan, 89-76

Monday the MSTC Dragons journeyed to Mitchell, South Dakota to take on the Tigers from Dakota Wesleyan University. Boots Kieselbach led the Dragons to a 89 to 76 win with his outstanding rebounding and starting of the Dragons' fast break.

The Dragons led all the way as Sherm Moe put the first basket in with less than five seconds gone in the first half. The boys in Red built up various leads until at one time they led by 21 points.

Rod Zimmerman replaced Kieselbach in the Dragons' lineup and responded by grabbing three rebounds and hitting for six points.

Dale Serum led the Dragons with 19 points and was followed by his partner at the other guard post, Ken Reitan, who hit for 13. Boots Kieselbach added 12 more and three other players hit 10 points apiece. They were reserves Alden Holte and Gene Goedel and forward Sherm Moe.

Intramural basketball for women begins soon

Girl's intramural basketball will get underway the first Monday after Christmas vacation.

A fun party is being held Monday, December 17 at 7:00 p.m. in the gymnasium for all girls. At this time, the girls intramural basketball rules and regulations will be explained. Bette Reyes will tell how a girl can become a member of WAA.

Individual and dual sports will be set up in the small gym. In the large gym, "warm-up" basketball games will be played. All girls are invited to attend fun night.

The following rules have been set up this year to govern the tournament:

1. A team will consist of at least six players. Games will not be started until each team has six players on the floor.
2. Teams must be prompt. A game will start no later than ten minutes after the time they are scheduled. The game will be forfeited if the team is not ready to play at this time.
3. A game will be forfeited if there are less than five players at anytime.
4. If a team forfeited two games, they will be dropped from the tournament.
5. Once a player has signed up with a team, she cannot play on any other team.
6. If a girl is not signed up with a team, she cannot play on any other she will be allowed to play with that team only.
7. Sorority teams may have non-sorority girls playing for them as long as they are not signed up for any other team.

8. Sorority girls may play on non-sorority teams if they are not signed up for the sorority team and have not played with that team.

9. Six minute quarters will be played with two minutes between quarters and five minutes at half-time.

10. Basketball co-captains are responsible for getting the timers, scorers, and referees.

Anyone who has not signed up for a team and wishing to participate in intramural basketball is asked to get in touch with Jo Baugh or Audrey DeMars. Team rosters must be turned in by Wednesday, December 19.

Concordians unite by radio parties

The annual Christmas radio parties of Concordia College in Moorhead, Minnesota, have been announced for December 27, when over 100 parties will be held simultaneously in communities of North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana and Minnesota.

Concordia students and alumni will be united at these various parties by a late evening radio broadcast originating from the Concordia campus and going out over WDAY Fargo and KFJR Bismarck.

At this broadcast, which is to be given from 11:10 to 11:30 p.m., telegrams, and telephone calls from the various parties will be transmitted over the air, thereby combining the 100 parties into one.

Caroline Hanson, a sophomore from Moorhead, Minnesota, has been elected general chairman of the parties, and she will be assisted by various students who will plan the individual parties in the four states.

The YWCA is the oldest organization on the MS campus, but probably one students know least about. This club meets the second Wednesday of each month at 7:30 p.m.

The YWCA project most girls are acquainted with is the Big-Little Sister program that is part of freshmen girls' orientation. Upperclasswomen introduce themselves and the MS campus to floundering, green freshmen. In February, a return party is held for the Big Sisters.

Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets are given to needy families. The annual Christmas party is now in the planning stage.

The two programs of the spring quarter are the Easter sunrise service and the Spring Banquet when new officers are installed. Present officers are Karene Hendricks, president; Rita
